

The Chairperson of the Commission encourages the parties to scrupulously honor the commitments made. He stresses that the implementation of the provisions contained in the Agreement can only contribute to the creation of a peaceful and stable environment necessary for the development of the Congo and the consolidation of democracy.