Expressing grave concern over the fact that the illicit transfer, circulation and misuse of small arms and light weapons sustains and exacerbates conflicts and contribute to a series of humanitarian law and human rights law violations, including forced displacements; Further expressing deep concern over the fact that the illicit transfer, circulation and misuse of small arms and light weapons continue to fuel and exacerbate international terrorism, transnational organized crime, drugs trafficking, money-laundering, illicit financial transactions, illegal exploitation of natural resources and wildlife trafficking;

Reaffirming that the elimination of the threat posed by the illicit transfer, circulation and misuse of small arms and light weapons is a critical component of realizing the goal of Silencing the Guns in Africa by the Year 2020 and Agenda 2063, and determining to continue to take practical steps in this respect;
Acting under Article 7 of its Protocol, the Peace and Security Council:

1. Welcomes the findings of the joint mapping study conducted by the Commission and the Small Arms Survey, which has shed light on the main types of illicit arms flows affecting the Continent and has also shown that illicit arms flows vary according to national, regional and sub-regional circumstances; In this respect, Council endorses the recommendations of the joint mapping study, and encourages Member States, the Commission, Regional Economic Communities and Mechanisms for Conflict Prevention, Management and Resolution (RECs/RMs) with a small arms mandate, to further enhance their respective capacities towards undertaking integrated and comprehensive measures to address this scourge in line with the regional and international instruments;

2. Emphasizes the responsibility of States producing and exporting small arms and light weapons to ensure regulated export and brokering controls, and to observe import control mechanisms that may be adopted at the sub regional level; Council also encourages exporting and importing States to share information regarding illicit brokers, and to afford one another the widest possible measure of assistance in investigations, prosecutions and judicial proceedings in relation to illicit arms transfers, including within the framework of the Arms Trade Treaty (ATT);

3. Underscores the need for Member States to enact appropriate regulations and administrative procedures to ensure effective control over the production, export, import, transit or retransfers of small arms and light weapons, as well as related brokering activities, in order to prevent illegal manufacture of, and illicit trafficking in, small arms and light weapons, or their diversion to unauthorized actors;

4. Notes with concern the growing circulation of readily convertible imitation handguns and craft-produced weapons in Africa and requests the Commission, in consultation with Member States, RECs/RMs with a small arms mandate, to assess the scale of these phenomena with a view to submitting recommendations on effective responses and regulatory measures;

5. Recognizes that the destabilizing accumulation and diversion of small arms and light weapons from national stockpiles is a significant factor contributing to illicit flows and, in this respect, urges Member States to enhance stockpile security, accountability and management in line with the regional and international voluntary guidelines, including the Modular Small-arms-control Implementation Compendium (MOSAIC) and the International Ammunition Technical Guidelines (IATG); In the same context, Council underlines the urgent need for timely measures to secure vulnerable stockpiles against capture by unauthorized non-state actors, particularly in conflict situations, and requests the Commission, in consultation with regional bodies and specialized institutions, to develop potential measures and good practices in this regard;
6. Stresses the urgency for Member States to eliminate the supply of small arms and light weapons to unauthorized non-states actors, including terrorist, armed and criminal groups, and urges them to intensify and accelerate the exchange of information regarding traffickers and trafficking routes, and to further enhance coordination of efforts at the sub-regional and international levels, including through regional police chiefs cooperation organizations, the AU Mechanism for Police Cooperation (AFIRPOL), the Committee of Intelligence and Security Services of Africa (CISSA) and the African centre for the Study and Research on Terrorism (ACSRT); Council further urges Member States to redouble their efforts and enhance their cooperation in tracing illicit small arms and light weapons in line with the International Tracing Instrument and through the INTERPOL Illicit Arms Records and Tracing Management System (iARMS);

7. Acknowledges that the porosity of African border is exploited by criminal and terrorist groups to transfer small arms and light weapons across countries, and in this regard, underlines the need for adaptable, cost-effective and innovative approaches to address this gap, including through enhanced border communities engagement and policing, ratification and implementation of the Niamey Convention on Cross-Border Cooperation, and streamlining border security into the AU Border Program;

8. Expresses deep concern over the continued circulation of illicit small arms and light weapons in post-conflict situations, which undermines peacebuilding and increases the risks for relapse into the cycle of violence, and stresses the need for effective weapons collection and disarmament, demobilization and reintegration programmes that provide sustainable opportunities to former combatants and takes into account the security needs of the wider populations; In this context, Council emphasizes the need for improved measures to regulate non-state actor possession of small arms and light weapons, in order to prevent the diversion or misuse of weapons and encourages Member States to implement initiatives that are in line with the Africa Amnesty Month;

9. Recognizes the significant contribution of Peace Support Operations in countering illicit arms flows in mission areas through seizing and confiscating illicit arms, and underlines the need to improve such practices in line with the provisional AU Policy on the Management of Recovered Small Arms and Light Weapons; Council also acknowledges the challenging environments in which AU Peace Support Operations are deployed and that contingent owned small arms and light weapons may become vulnerable to theft and capture, and thereby requests the Commission to provide the necessary assistance to enhance security, management and accountability measures;

10. Acknowledges that arms embargoes mandated by the UN Security Council are an important tool contributing to countering the illicit transfer of small arms and light weapons, thereby mitigating the severity of conflicts and creating conditions conducive to their peaceful resolution; In this respect, Council unequivocally condemns all violations of arms embargoes currently in effect in Africa, particularly as they result in supplies to terrorist groups and criminal networks, undermine the sovereignty and territorial integrity of Member States, and threaten regional security and stability; underlines that Member States subject to arms embargoes should be adequately assisted in implementing the necessary measures required to achieve well defined targets and objectives; and affirms its intention to increase collaboration with the UN Security Council to address implementation gaps, including within the framework of the annual joint consultative meeting between the two councils;

11. Calls upon Member States, the Commission, RECs/RMs with a small arms mandate to take concrete measures to facilitate women’s full and meaningful participation in all policymaking, planning and implementation processes to counter and eradicate the illicit transfer and misuse of small arms and light weapons, and to mitigate the risk of women from becoming active players in the illicit transfer of small arms and light weapons;

12. Emphasizes the importance of gathering data on the extent and impact of illicit flows at the national level and sub-regional levels, taking into account their impact on women, men, girls and boys, and in a manner that informs effective results-based approaches that lend themselves to be monitored and measured;

13. Reiterates that national reporting provisions contained in regional and international instruments are key transparency measures that contribute significantly to confidence-building and security among states, and calls upon Member States to fully comply with these provisions, as well as to report annually on their armaments to the UN Register of Conventional Arms;

14. Emphasizes its intention to continue to take due regard of related issues when considering conflict situations, and requests the Commission to include in its reports and briefings to the Council on country-specific situations, more comprehensive and detailed information and recommendations relating to the impact of the illicit transfer of small arms and light weapons, including on the protection of civilians;

15. Decides to remain seized of the matter.
